

"STATES RIGHTS" IS TO BE THE BONE OF CONTENTION

National Irrigation Congress Hears Alva Adams on State Control of Conservation.

PUEBLO, Colo., Sept. 26.—With the "states rights" controversy expected to be the leading issue, the eighteenth National Irrigation Congress opened today.

Unquestionably the struggle started at the Conservation Congress in St. Paul will be renewed here. The bone of contention is the nine-million dollar Engle dam, on the Rio Grande in New Mexico. Coloradans claim that New Mexico is benefiting by the government project at the expense of the San Luis Valley.

The Colorado afternoon program included addresses by Alva Adams, ex-governor of Colorado; B. A. Fowler, president of the congress. W. J. Bryan is scheduled tonight for a talk on the "Initiative and Referendum."

Chicago, San Francisco and Reno are candidates for the next congress.

Taft Thanks Congress

PUEBLO, Sept. 26.—President Taft telegraphed President Fowler that he regretted his official duties prevented his attendance at the congress, and thanking the organization for "what you have been doing, and for the support you have given the movement of the great work of reclaiming the desert lands."

Following is the speech of Alva

Adams, ex-governor of Colorado. After a tribute to Colorado and its citizens Adams said:

"After centuries of cutting down forests, easterners are now vigorously demanding to stop waste and vandalism in the west. So far the battle has waged around the Pinchot and Ballinger standards. Both no doubt are honest, but the prejudice of partisanship has so clouded the issue that but a small proportion of the people know the difference in their beliefs.

"The greatest need of conservation is to show there is no need to worry over forest disappearance. Fifty years of scientific reforestation will give America more standing timber than when Columbus landed. The cry that the corporations will gobble the public domain is foolish. The corporations are too busy keeping out of jail to plan new invasions. The people are stronger than any combination or corporation.

"The time has come when the national government must quit the land business and state control be given home rights over its territory. It prevents conflicts of divided authority. With state control no Ballinger-Pinchot.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE SOUNDING LOCAL LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATES

Both Bishop and Finley Satisfactory to the League as Both Endorse the Principles of Local Option—Bishop Talks Freely on the Subject

D. M. Gandier, legislative superintendent of the California Anti-Saloon League, paid a visit to Santa Ana for the purpose of getting a line on the candidates for the legislature.

"All I want to know," he said, "is how they stand on the principle of local option. Of course I wouldn't ask them to pledge themselves to vote for any particular bill—that wouldn't be proper or right—it would actually be illegal for me to ask or for the candidates to give any such pledge—but the Anti-Saloon League will strenuously oppose any candidate whose attitude is inimical to the broad principle of local self-government as embodied in so-called local option laws."

Mr. Gandier said he had been able to satisfy himself that the Democratic candidate, Col. Finley, was all right, but that he had not been able to see Mr. Bishop, the Republican candidate. He asked local Anti-Saloon League men to interview Mr. Bishop and, if necessary, make an appointment with him for a conference at which Mr. Gandier would be present.

The Register asked Mr. Bishop where he stood on the question raised by Mr. Gandier, and in reply the Republican candidate for the legislature said:

"I have always endorsed the principle of local option—that is, I believe it to be a right principle of popular government that any city or county shall be empowered by law to decide by majority vote whether or not the liquor traffic shall be permitted within the confines of such city or county, the governing body to enforce the law so enacted.

"I have no affiliation with or interest in the liquor traffic, and am in no way allied to it.

"Of course," continued Mr. Bishop, "I can give no pledge to anybody as to how I will or will not vote on any bill or question, if elected, but I shall be pleased to meet Mr. Gandier, in company with any of our mutual friends, for a conference, and will cheerfully give my views on this or any other public question.

"I want it understood that Mr. Gandier shall not be at liberty to construe my expression of attitude as a promise to vote for any kind of a bill that he or any other person may cause to be introduced in the legislature, for I have no knowledge of the provisions of any bill that he has in mind."

Mr. Gandier, while in Santa Ana, said the Anti-Saloon League does not intend to make any fight on any candidate because he favors licensing the liquor traffic, but that it is fighting, and will continue to fight with all its power, any candidate who is not willing to let the people of any community decide for themselves whether or not the liquor traffic shall be permitted in such community.

At the meeting of the Democratic county central committee Saturday afternoon final arrangements were made for the three Theodore A. Bell meetings to be held in this county tomorrow.

Theodore A. Bell and Timothy Spellacy, Democratic candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, will arrive from San Diego on the 11:44 o'clock train tomorrow morning. They will be met by a delegation of local Democrats in automobiles, and will be escorted to the Rossmore Hotel.

After lunch the candidates will be taken to Anaheim by automobile, and at 2 o'clock Bell will speak from an automobile on the street at Anaheim.

At 4 o'clock he will speak from the bandstand in the plaza at Orange.

The Santa Ana meeting will be held at 8 o'clock. Music by the Santa Ana City Band will usher in the meeting.

HASKELL MUST GO TO TRIAL SAYS JUDGE

Overruled Motion of Attorneys to Refile Demurrer in the Muskogee Lots Case

McALISTER, Okla., Sept. 26.—The trial of Gov. Charles N. Haskell in connection with alleged frauds in Muskogee town lots, was ordered to proceed today. Federal Judge Marshall overruled the motion by Haskell's attorneys for refileing their demurrer. The motion was brought on the grounds of errors in the court's reasons in its decision to overrule.

HIRAM JONSON IS OFF FOR THE SOUTH

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 26.—After a day of rest and visiting with old friends in his former home city, Hiram W. Johnson set out early this morning to carry the torch of political insurgency through the southern mines district and the San Joaquin valley.

The Republican nominee for governor arrived in Sacramento late Saturday night. Throughout today he received friends and political allies in the lobby of the Hotel Sacramento. Mrs. Johnson came up from the city on Saturday to join her husband and son, Hiram W. Johnson, Jr., before their departure for the southern end of the state. W. R. Ellis, assistant secretary of the Republican State Central Committee and advance agent, also met the party state leader and arranged with him the meeting schedule for this week.

For the next two days Johnson will do the hardest work of the campaign, speaking four times today and eight times tomorrow, and riding by automobile through a rough and mountainous region.

SEEKING HARMONY IN CONGRESS OF MINERS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—Officers of the American Mining Congress are making an effort today to secure a "harmony convention." Conservation is certain to be made an issue. If Gifford Pinchot's speech tonight opens old sores the officials fear the congress will wrangle over conservation to the detriment of the scheduled business. Whether they will succeed in avoiding hostilities on the floor is problematical.

It is also believed the "states rights" question causing such a bitter fight at the St. Paul Conservation Congress, will enter the deliberations here. Delegates agree that Pinchot's address will be the crux of the situation.

MOB AFTER SUFFRAGETTES

Police Quell Rioters at Opening of Women's English Convention

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Suffragettes opened their first convention yesterday at Ashton-Under-Tyne. Thousands of men and boys surrounded the Market place where the meeting was to have been held and pelted the women with eggs and vegetables.

The police clubbed the mobbers and escorted the suffragettes to the railway station.

ROOSEVELT CRIES "WE'LL BEAT THEM TO A FRAZZLE"

And It Looks It, Too, as Old Guard Admits Defeat—Fierce Debates Will Be Waged at Saratoga.

TROY, N. Y., Sept. 26.—"We are going to beat them to a frazzle; remember, to a frazzle!" cried Colonel Roosevelt from the train platform to 2500 persons today when he passed through here en route to Saratoga.

Old Guard Would Compromise
SARATOGA, Sept. 26.—Members of the "old guard" admitted today they were preparing to confer with Colonel Roosevelt regarding a compromise. The regulars admit their defeat in the control of the convention. It is reported they will ask Roosevelt to consent to making Vice President Sherman temporary chairman for the "general good of the party in the state."

MAY BE READY TO MAKE COMPROMISE

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Prepared to compromise if necessary, Roosevelt started for Saratoga today. The Colonel was inclined to discredit the report that he will be unable to control the convention when the matter of a direct primary plank comes up. Lloyd Griscom and Herbert Parsons, Roosevelt's chief lieutenants, will report when Roosevelt arrives, and go over the situation.

Roosevelt is cheerful and apparently sanguine of victory. It is anticipated there will be no difficulty in the adoption of a progressive platform.

WOULD FORCE NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR ON TEDDY

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Maddened by threatened defeat in the state convention, old guard bosses have concluded to try and place upon Roosevelt the full responsibility for the issue in November by forcing his nomination for Governor. Despite protestations from Roosevelt and his allies that he would decline to head the ticket, Bosses Aldridge, Malby, Wadsworth and others openly declared themselves in favor of putting Roosevelt up and see if he could elect himself. Vice President Sherman arrived at noon.

"I came here to serve as temporary chairman," he declared, "and I am prepared to perform my duties."

Questioned by the newspaper men regarding the chairmanship, he said irritably: "I am going to be temporary chairman, remember that."

Both factions are in conference framing planks which may be the basis of a compromise. The regulars this morning announced they will

EDISON CO. WILL LOWER ELECTRIC LIGHT RATES

Some Interesting Conditions Bearing Upon the Next Municipal Election— "Straws Show Which Way the Wind Blows

The Edison Company is going to lower rates for electric lights in Santa Ana. Effective October first the rate will be 10 cents per kilowatt instead of 12½ cents.

This announcement is not officially made, but Local Manager Deimling admits that his understanding is that the reduction will be made on the date above mentioned.

This reduction comes almost coincident with the action of the city trustees in appointing a committee to investigate gas and electric rates in other cities of Southern California; but Manager Deimling says the reduction was decided on several months ago, and the Register can testify that it was at least talked of, and intimation given that it was coming, as long as six months ago.

This naturally leads to consideration of many rumors bearing upon the electric light and gas question in connection with next spring's municipal election.

Not to make premature publication in this regard, and to avoid giving undue importance to some of these rumors and reports, the situation may be summed up by saying that, as having a bearing on municipal politics, these things are true:

That the claim is made by certain city officers and many citizens that rates for gas and electric lights, in Santa Ana, are much higher than the rates in other Southern California cities of about the same size.

That this is denied by the Edison Co., which claims that the rates are lower here than anywhere else under like conditions.

That the present board of city trustees has expressed the determination to fix lower rates by ordinance, if their investigations shall bear out the claims of their subordinates and many citizens.

That conferences between the Southern California Edison Co. and the city trustees have failed to result in an agreement as to what rates would be fair and just.

That soon after the next city election the present contract for lighting the streets will expire, and a new contract must be made.

That a very considerable and influential part of the community favors municipal ownership of gas and electric light plants.

That the Southern California Edison Co. is strenuously opposed to municipal ownership on general principles, and in Santa Ana is said to be opposed to municipal ownership for electric lights and power, but willing to relinquish its ownership of gas if the city will buy its plant at a fair valuation.

That there are many people who feel that we should have a more aggressive and progressive board of city trustees.

That many of our citizens feel that the careful conservatism of the present city trustees is exactly what is needed for the best interests of the town.

That the young men of the town are talking of organizing for the purpose of infusing "young blood" into the municipal body politic.

That the liquor interests have not given up all hope of getting some sort of a legal foothold in Santa Ana.

That there are a limited number of good citizens who sincerely believe that the best interests of the town demand some concession to the liquor business—at least a hotel table license.

That at least a majority of the present board if city trustees are opposed to legalizing any form of liquor traffic in Santa Ana and are zealous and efficient in the enforcement of the law prohibiting the sale of liquor as a beverage.

Any political alignment for the coming municipal election should be viewed in the light of these facts.

FRANK M. BELL ARRAIGNED TODAY

Promises to Produce Important Witness When His Case May be Called

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—Frank M. Bell, who shot and killed O. P. Widaman at Artesia three months ago following a long standing feud, was arraigned today, and Sept. 30 was set as the date for him to plead. He was represented in court by Earl Rogers.

LORIMER PROBE OPENS IN CHICAGO

Chas. A. White Repeated His Confession of Having Received $1000

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—The senatorial investigation of charges of a bribery fund used to elect Senator William Lorimer began today. Senator Bulkley of Connecticut arrived at noon. Senator Frazier of Tennessee will arrive tonight, completing the committee.

Legislator Charles A. White who testified during the bribery trial of Lee O'Neill Browne that he received $1000 for voting for Lorimer, was the first witness. He repeated his confessions of the Browne trial, and recited alleged conversations with Browne regarding the money received. Lorimer's attorneys objected to the testimony as calculated to delve into an alleged "jack pot" plot. The committee retired to consider the objection.

After lengthy deliberation, the committee decided that White's testimony regarding the "jack-pot" should stand temporarily. Following the decision a letter showing dealings between White and Browne was introduced.

Attorney Austrian, representing the Chicago Tribune, questioned White regarding the alleged jack pot meeting at St. Louis. Attorney Haney, for Lorimer, objected continually. The greater part of the hearing was occupied with counsel's bickerings.

TAFT MEETS HIS CABINET TODAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The cabinet met at 11 o'clock this morning and the president was greeted warmly. It is believed that today's meeting is merely preliminary and no business will be done till the middle of the week. Tomorrow will be devoted to routine business and to reviewing the returns from the Saratoga convention.

President Taft has been advised by politicians that the only hope of returning a Republican House of Representatives is by a bold stroke of some sort. This is necessary, his advisers say, to turn probable defeat into victory.

Wednesday's session will probably resemble a political caucus, as ways and means will be discussed. President Taft speaks Saturday night at the banquet of the New York League of Republican clubs. Vice President Sherman is also to speak.

DR. BURKE FOUND TO BE IN VALLEJO

VALLEJO, Sept. 26.—Although reported to be living in Southern California, Dr. Willard Burke, charged with dynamiting, has been in Vallejo since he disappeared from Santa Rosa on the day Lou Etta Smith, his alleged intended victim returned from Japan. Concerning Mrs. Marion Derig, an important witness who also disappeared, Burke said:

"I can't tell where she is, but I will promise that she will be on hand to testify when the case is called."

Burke declared that he expects to go to Southern California before returning to Santa Rosa. He will visit Los Angeles, San Bernardino, and possibly Riverside on matters of business.

CUTS CORNER HITS AUTO RIDER HURT

Motorcyclist Carpenter Collided With Truck and Was Run Over by Wheels

INJURIES ARE NOT SERIOUS

Accident Came So Suddenly Neither Motor Driver Had Time to Stop

Yesterday evening about 5:30 o'clock Benjamin Carpenter, riding a motorcycle, collided with G. W. Wells's automobile truck at the corner of Fourth and Broadway. Carpenter was run over by two wheels of the truck, crossing the abdomen, and he may have received internal injuries. No bones were broken.

Wells, proprietor of the soda and phosphate works at 1118 West Second street, accompanied by two boys, was in the auto truck, going west on Fourth street on the right side of the street. Carpenter, an employe of the Edison Electric Co., was riding south on Broadway, and, owing to the building materials being in the street he was near the center of the street.

Carpenter evidently intended to turn east on Fourth. An examination of the motorcycle tracks is said to have shown that he cut the corner somewhat.

The collision came in a flash. The motorcyclist had just time to set his brakes, and the machine slid a short distance. The driver of the truck had no time to stop, as the motorcycle swung toward the truck.

Carpenter was knocked down, and the truck's wheels passed over him. He was taken to a physician's office and later to his home at the corner of Flower and Hickey streets.

Carpenter's physicians said this afternoon that Carpenter was resting easily, and it is believed now that there are no internal injuries. Carpenter has several cuts and bruises on his body.

GUILTY OF WIFE'S MURDER SAYS JURY

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The coroner's jury today returned a verdict declaring that Belle Elmore Crippen was murdered by her husband, Dr. Hawley Crippen, the American dentist. In the verdict the jury declared the evidence presented by Dr. Pepper, the government toxicologist, was deemed sufficient to establish the identity of the remains found in the Crippen basement. The verdict was a distinct victory for the crown.

With the corpus delicti established, the crown is relieved of the necessity of holding the trial in abeyance. It is believed the trial will be started as quickly as possible.

Coroner Schroeder's summary partially favored Crippen when it said: "It does not follow that because Crippen lied regarding his wife's death and fled to Canada that he killed her. Moreover, you must not consider Mlle Leneve's connection with the case after that flight."

The jury report stated that the evidence was sufficient to establish from the body of Mrs. Crippen that she died of hyoscin poisoning.

NINETY-SEVEN PRIZES ARE OFFERED AWAKEN INTEREST IN CARNIVAL POULTRY SHOW

The committee in charge of the 1910 Carnival of Products poultry show has secured a list of ninety-seven prizes to be offered exhibitors. The indications now are that the show will be the biggest ever held in this county. Through the activity of Orange County Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Stock Association interest in the show is great.

The following foreword has been issued:

Orange County Poultry Breeders:

In order to promote interest in the poultry, pigeon and pet stock industry throughout our county, and to encourage our breeders to raise better poultry and more of it, the executive committee of the Carnival of Products authorized the offering of premiums consisting of ribbons, cups and special prizes for the best specimens of Orange county poultry. Prizes will be awarded by a competent judge who will make his award according to the revised American standard of perfection. The judging will be done by comparison.

On the recommendation of the executive committee of the Orange County Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Stock Association, Mr. S. Tyler, of Pasadena, Cal., has been engaged as judge. Mr. Tyler is pre-eminently qualified for the position, he having officiated at most of the big shows held on the Pacific Coast in recent years. For any poultry fancier to have his birds passed upon by such authority at so small a cost to the exhibitor, will be a privilege not often afforded. All fanciers in Orange county are therefore invited to bring or send their birds or pet stock and compete for the honors of the award. Do not hesitate to show your stock, thinking that they look a little "ragged." The earliness of the season will naturally be taken into consideration in judging, and your birds will be no worse than your competitors.

With the services of such a judge as Mr. Tyler, and with the desire that we all have to make our Carnival of Products a success, this department of the carnival should be filled to overflowing with the best of Orange county's choicest birds.

Yours,
For "Better Poultry and More of It,"
S. J. JACKMAN, Supt.

Rules usually governing poultry, pigeon and pet stock shows in California will apply to this exhibit, except as hereinafter specified.

First—All premiums, regular and special, are open to competition of all breeders in Orange county, except club prizes and specials as hereinafter noted.

Second—Winners of prizes will receive the same, or orders therefor, from the superintendent as soon as possible after awards are made.

Third—Entries will close on October 3rd, at 6 o'clock p.m., sharp. But all entries should be made as long before that date as possible.

Fourth—The entry fee for poultry of all classes and pet stock of all classes will be ten cents for each specimen, with a minimum charge of 25 cents for each exhibitor. For pigeons the entrance fee will be 5 cents for each specimen, with a minimum charge of 25 cents for each exhibitor.

Fifth—The superintendent and his assistants will be on the grounds all day October 5th to receive the exhibits which must be all in not later than 5 o'clock on that date to insure their classification and right to compete for premiums.

Sixth—Each specimen must be entered in the name of the actual owner. Any violation of this rule will disbar from exhibiting at future shows of this Association and forfeiture of any premium won.

Ribbons will be awarded as follows:

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle of Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is made of and Vegetable Compound. This he feels he can well afford to do because the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftentimes, with a debilitating pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nerve and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuritis, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Doctor Pierce's Invalid Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

lows on each variety: First, second and third for cockerel, hen, pullet, pen, display pen, and grand display pen. The ribbons will be: First, blue; second, red; third, yellow. In addition to the ribbon prizes, sweepstakes will be awarded for displays and grand displays in each class as follows:

For the best display or grand display in each class, not less than three to compete, a silver cup will be given by the carnival management. For the second best display or grand display will also be awarded a silver cup. There will also be a list of special premiums offered by the merchants, fanciers and others, which will be competed for by points, unless otherwise specified. Further information will be found in the special premium list.

Turkeys, ducks, geese and pigeons will be judged and prizes awarded under the same rules as govern the above class.

Special premiums are also offered for rabbits and cats and other pet stock.

GOOD FISHING AT THE BEACH

Newport Wharf and Surf Produced Plenty During Last Week

Halfbut have been biting very freely the past week and have been running a good size. Saturday, Sunday and Monday some fine catches of surf fish were made but these fish lost their appetite the latter part of the week.

Alex Wright caught twenty fine surf and yellowfin off East Newport Saturday among which were several that weighed five pounds.

W. K. Parkinson and Johnny Luxemberger got some fine yellow and spottin off the S. P. wharf, the only trouble with fishing being the current which caused the sinkers to drift into the wharf. On the west side of the wharf where the water was quiet there were no fish. Mackerel have been very numerous but are rather small and no "corn-feds" have been caught for sometime. In the smelt seining business it is the field, consisting of Jim Strauss, Williams Bros. & Schwall, Rube Shafer and Al Dixon against C. S. Hemstreet and among them the market is kept fairly well supplied with smelt. Several hauls of eight and nine hundred pounds have been made the past week. Yellowtail have been more plentiful the past two weeks but the only way they can be caught with success is with a hand line on account of the stub piles at the end of the wharf.

WELL DESERVED

The Praise That Comes From Thankful Santa Ana People

—One kidney remedy never fails. Santa Ana people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Santa Ana testimony proves it always reliable.

—Mrs. L. A. Steele, 517 West First street, Santa Ana, Cal., says: "I had kidney trouble all my life and during the past four years my condition has been especially bad. Inflammation of the bladder caused me intense suffering. The kidney secretions were unnatural and too frequent in passage and caused me much distress when being voided. My back was weak, lame and painful and if I sat down for any length of time, it was difficult for me to get up. The least cold I caught aggravated my trouble and I was subject to headaches, dizzy spells and a tired, languid feeling. Nothing I took seemed to help me and I was finally led to try Doan's Kidney Pills by reading accounts of their good work in similar cases. As soon as I began taking this remedy I noticed a change for the better and by the time I had used three boxes, my health was greatly improved. My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills gives me much confidence in them."

Each of the two hundred and thirty Methodist churches in Southern California will have at least one representative at the conference, and in addition to the clerical delegates, a large number of lay delegates will attend the meeting.

The special train will stop at Visalia Tuesday morning en route, when the citizens of that city will entertain the trainload of guests with a breakfast.

The conference will be in session for a week. Bishop E. H. Hughes will preside. After the regular annual business relative to the Methodist churches has been transacted a literary program will follow.

Dr. M. D. Buell of Boston University will give a lecture each day on the Pauline Epistles. Rev. Matt S. Hughes of Pasadena, Rev. W. E. Tilroe of Boyle Heights and Rev. Charles Edward Locke of Los Angeles will address the gathering.

Dr. Thomas Nicholson of New York City, secretary of the Board of Education there; Dr. Edgar Blake, assistant secretary of the Board of Sunday Schools of Chicago; Dr. M. C. B. Mason, secretary of the Freedman's Aid Society of Cincinnati, and Dr. Charles M. Boswell, assistant secretary of the Board of Home Missions, Philadelphia, will all deliver addresses in the interest of the work which they respectively represent.

On Friday of conference week there will be held a layman's conference, for which delegates will be appointed from all Methodist churches, one for every fifty members of the congregations.

The proceedings of the conference will be followed with the greatest interest in Southern California, which is the home of more than thirty thousand Methodists.

OPENING GAME SANTA ANA'S

Winter Baseball Season Begun
—Hoegees Defeated Here
6 to 2

First Baseman Verry Hit in the Head by Pitched Ball—
Out of Game

Santa Ana, 6; Hoegee, 2.
These figures tell the story of the opening game of the winter baseball season in Santa Ana, the locals winning by the score of 6 to 2.

It was the first time that the Hoegees had been together, and they played exceptionally good ball, only three misplays being charged against them.

"Rummy" Dubois was in fine form. He allowed the visitors but six hits and fanned ten.

The scoring commenced in the fourth. Verry, first man up, was hit by a pitched ball, and the locals' big catcher, Stephens, followed with a double to the left center fence, scoring Verry. F. West followed this with a single to center that scored Stephens. Peters came to bat. Somebody yelled, "Do it as your father used to do it," and what did he do but pole out a nice single that scored West, who had stolen second. Peters stole second and scored on McDonald's error.

The visitors scored two in the seventh on a couple of hits and an error. This scared the locals into making two more scores, the game ending 6 to 2.

Verry was hit by a pitched ball and was forced to retire from the game.

The West brothers, of the local team, were the batting leaders of the game, each scoring two hits.

PATHFINDER DIES AT AGE OF 93 YEARS

Alonso H. Fox Was One of Famous '49ers and Passed Away in Long Beach

Los Angeles Examiner: Alonso H. Fox, father-in-law of David B. Henderson, late ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives, died Sunday at Long Beach at the age of 93. Death came to him at the apartments of the late speaker's wife, Mrs. A. A. Henderson, and also in the presence of his other daughter, Mrs. Harriet E. Koster, wife of the well known Los Angeles restaurateur.

He had been ill but a short time and age was the principal cause of the demise of this famous nonagenarian, whose life has been knit with the history of the southland and who was one of the "Forty-niners" who came to California overland.

Mr. Fox was born August 6, 1817, in Herkimer county, New York. He joined in the gold rush of 1849 and followed the Mormon trail to Ogden and then across the Nevada desert, he being one of the pathfinders through the famed East Gate pass in the Rockies. His search for gold could not have been satisfactory, for he spent a year as assistant postmaster at Sacramento and returned east in 1852, settling in West Union, Iowa. It was there his daughter married Speaker Henderson.

But the lure of California was on him and in 1877 he returned, but to the Southland, and made his home in Los Angeles, where he acquired considerable property. He also had interests in San Bernardino which kept him there a good part of his time, and in 1885 he bought a ranch at Etiwanda, where he had his home, though he spent much of his time in Los Angeles.

BIDS UNDER ADVISEMENT

Newbert Protection District Received Offers for Doing Channel Work

The Newbert Protection District directors at their meeting Saturday received three bids for the excavation work of making the new river channel. These bids were taken under advisement until Oct. 1, at which time they will be acted upon.

For the purposes of the bid the channel was divided into seven sections, bids to be by the square yard for each section. Two of the bidders added conditions in case quicksand should be encountered, which complicated the bids and necessitated taking them under advisement. The bids were: H. R. Postle, agent, 14¢ cents per square yard, all sections. W. F. Hewitt Co., 15.7 cents to 21 cents. Sturats Drainage Co., 15.5 cents to 16.25 cents.

Dr. Menges was before the board relative to a method of selling bonds of the company, saying that he thought bonds could be sold if there was any inducement for an agent to take up their negotiations. The directors then passed a resolution of offering one-half of one per cent as compensation to any person selling bonds of the company, bids to be taken upon all sales.

HANDSOME NEW STORE AND RAPIDLY GROWING BUSINESS

—The firm of Morrill & Price who recently moved their grocery and china store to the opera house block, now have one of the best and as well as one of the largest stores of the kind in the city. The new store has thirty feet frontage on Fourth street, also an entrance from Bush street, and is 100 feet in depth, a balcony extends over a considerable portion of the main room which with the well lighted basement, gives them floor space equal to if not greater than that of any other grocery in Santa Ana. They have put in new shelving, show cases and other fixtures for displaying their large stock of goods, which includes everything in staple and fancy groceries, chinaware, glassware, cut glass, and crockery of all kinds.

Their stock of china is the most complete line in the county, embracing several open stock patterns of decorated and plain white Haviland dinner ware, also a number of patterns of imported semi-porcelain dinner sets in open stock and all the odd sets and single pieces usually found in a first class china store. Everything is neatly arranged both in the grocery and china departments, the large room giving ample facilities for displaying their goods. A rest room has been provided for ladies, which commands a good view of the street and which is furnished with comfortable seats, telephones, etc., for the free use of their patrons.

The firm is now better prepared than ever to take care of the large and rapidly growing trade, which by courteous treatment and careful attention to every detail they have practically doubled in the two years they have been in business.

Chiropractors, men and women alike, are all making from $1500 to $10,000 per year.

If you are not satisfied with your present financial or physical condition, come and let us tell you how in one year's time and with little expense, you can be well, and making as much money and attain a degree of proficiency that it would take from ten years to a life-time and a great expense to equal in any other profession.

PROBLEM FOR YOUNG MEN

Here is a problem in politics for the young men to solve: The Register will state it and leave it for them to figure out. As a lesson it will be a fine starter toward a political education. It is one of those little things that become big things by the process of multiplication, and to stimulate interest in it the Register will state that it vitally concerns every merchant with every patron he has. It has just been developed before the Interstate Commerce Commission that is now in session in Chicago and the facts are these:

General Manager Parks of the Illinois Central railroad advanced the opinion that the road should be permitted to collect enough from its customers in the shape of freight, etc., not only to provide a reasonable dividend, but to make a yearly surplus of six or seven millions, "to make the investment attractive to people with money, and to give the company a credit."

Now then the question is as follows: Ignoring any consideration as to whether or not railroads should be allowed to collect a surpluse for the purpose mentioned, what, aside from that, is the result of collecting such surpluse? That is, what would be the result other than that stated by Mr. Parks of making "the investment attractive to people with money and giving the company credit?" Would it violate any of the principles of business, and if so what? What wrong, if any, would thereby be committed against the public, aside from making it pay the surpluse? The Register raises the question with the hopes that it may induce some of our young men to study the railroad question and gain information that is sadly needed by the voters of the county.

APPROVAL WELL DESERVED

It was a pretty compliment that the good roads investigating committee paid in its report to the Republican state platform. It declared: "Your committee commends the attitude of the last state convention of one of the leading political parties, which lays down as one of its planks the following principle: 'The elimination of partisan patronage from the administrative departments of government and in general the introduction of the merit system in the public service.'"

The leading political party therein referred to is the Republican party, the plank a plank from its platform—a part of the constructive program the party has adopted, one of the specific reforms it pledges itself to execute under Johnson's leadership. The instance serves to accentuate the great difference between the Republican and Democratic parties in this campaign. Alike condemning many of the evils that have crept into our government, the Democratic party stops with denunciation, while the Republican party presents an extended program of construction and reconstruction.—Los Angeles Express.

SURVEYORS AT WORK FOR SOUTHERN PACIFIC

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 26.—A corps of fifteen surveyors has taken up quarters at Daggett and is working east and west on the desert surveying the mineral lands claimed by the Southern Pacific under the old Atlantic-Pacific government grant. When the railroad originally set out to obtain title, a year ago, the mining interests of this county and Los Angeles became aroused. Mass meetings were held and resolutions protesting were sent to Washington. The miners claimed that the lands were not of a character coming under the land grant act. The government decided the issue in favor of the railroad.

Always So.

Bob Gerwing was cogitating After the day's work was done; His wife had gone to Newport— That town of frivolity and fun.

He said: "I guess I'll go home, Go to bed, like a man, Get up in the morning, come down To the shop and work as hard as I can."

Then of a sudden he happened to spy his wheel And he said: "I know, I will go for a little spiel." Very soon he was mounted and riding along so gay, But what seemed strange to him was everything got out of his way.

Ahead were some automobiles, and they were going pretty fast— It was not long before these he had passed— Then he came to the railroad, the train was going by, And he said: "To beat this I will have a try."

Then he found to his dismay, The wheel it wouldn't stop, And just as things reached this climax My gentleman went kerflop.

"'Twas a dream," he said, With a sigh of relief, "But no wonder I passed them all, I was riding that wheel, the 'Chief.'"

Wilcox, Ariz., Sept. 19, 1910.
Santa Ana Register.

Gentlemen: On looking over the Register under date of Sept. 13, 1910, I came upon the account of the experience of the colony of Orange county people who located about twenty-four miles north of Wilcox, Ariz.

Now, we don't want this whole Sulphur Springs Valley to get a black eye just because people are disgusted with a certain section. We are located about seventeen miles south-east of Wilcox, and we, and all the people in this part, are highly satisfied with the land, and the soil is very rich, and plenty of water near the surface. It is true that in some parts of the valley, and where this party located, for instance, the water is scarce. In such a large valley as Sulphur Springs there is bound to be quite a range in temperature and in quality of soil.

A man can't expect to go into a new country and make a fortune in a few months. There are a great many obstacles and lots of good, hard work. The people who first settled in Orange county had lots of hardships to contend with. Well, it is the same here, but I truly believe that this will be a rich producing country before many years. This has been an unusually dry year, the driest in twelve years, I believe, but every state has its dry years and a good many suffered this year. Even though this is a dry year, a man can cut all the hay he wants on the unsurveyed land where the wild hay and grasses are thick and we have lots of fine feed in our own pastures.

I think Orange county is the place for a home, and I hope to live there some day, but I think this is a fine place to make a start. Of course, I may be mistaken in some points, but I am well pleased so far.

Yours very truly,
FRED L. WILSON.

Tuesday, Sept. 27th

at 8 p. m.

Today the school-boys' troubles as well as his joys begin.

Most of the Conservatory pupils are public school students. We are obliged to keep this fact in mind too and assign their work accordingly. Most of the pupils who take music in addition to their school-work do not find it especially taxing to do both. But a few who are less physically strong must have special attention along this line. It is the aim of the Conservatory to consider each pupil's individual needs.

We cannot adequately express our appreciation of the interest and hearty co-operation of Prof. Cranston in our work. Prof. Cranston believes that the child's music study or any study that is calculated to advance his esthetic culture is just as important as any school study. Therefore he has expressed a desire to help the child in any way possible in the work, even to the extent of allowing him to be excused from school during a study period if necessary to attend his music lesson. This kind of practical support not only of our work but the child's is what we appreciate.

Society

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The W.C.T.U. will meet on Tuesday at 2:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. S. H. Finley, 1633 East Fourth street. The subject is "Scientific Temperance Instruction."

Those in charge of the meeting are Mrs. Viola Norman, Mrs. J. G. Quick and Mrs. Stambaugh. Mrs. Maggie Rawlings, county superintendent of Scientific Temperance, will be present and give a talk on the subject.

All are most cordially invited. A good attendance of the members is desired, owing to special business.

Ebell Club Meeting

On Saturday afternoon the Ebell Society of the Santa Ana Valley held its first regular meeting of the year. The large number of ladies present, quite filling Elks Hall, indicated the interest felt in the society by its members. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. E. M. Nealey, who was re-elected to this office after having capably served the society as president last year.

Before commencing the attractive program a number of business matters were disposed of, and reports of various committees were listened to. Among these was Miss Cubbison's report of the steps taken by the Art Section, to collect and make an exhibit of the works of art of Orange county. This exhibit will be placed in the building at the corner of Bush and Fourth streets, and will be open to the public during the week of the Carnival of Products. A small admission fee will be charged, and the proceeds applied to the building fund for the Ebell club house. Those having articles to loan for this exhibit are requested to notify either Miss Cubbison, Mrs. Lawton or Mrs. Severance.

A gracious invitation was received from Mrs. Jas. S. Rice to meet at her home for a musicale some time in November.

Mrs. Smart reported that a plan had been perfected for the serving of dinners and suppers to the delegates attending the Sunday school convention that meets in Santa Ana November 9, 10 and 11. It is proposed to serve these meals at three different points in the city, and Mesdames True, Wimbler, Riggs, Colver and Wehrly constitute a committee to take charge of the serving.

Miss Gertrude Montgomery, in behalf of the Young Ladies' Travelers, reported that the Ebell float for the Carnival would be taken charge of by their section.

Mrs. Hull told of the progress made in preparing for the play, "Esmeralda," to be given at the Grand Opera House Tuesday night, for the benefit of the club house building fund. All members were urged to be present, and to bring a friend.

Miss Ann Cavanagh of Los Angeles, was next introduced by the president, and delighted her audience with a well selected and charmingly delivered group of recitations and impersonations. Miss Cavanagh is an accomplished elocutionist, her specialties being dialect stories. Of these she gave a number, impersonating with equal facility the Italian fruit vender, the negro servant, and the Irish woman's version of "Hamlet," while O'Henry's Germany story, "Lena's Prince," was delicious with its mixture of humor and pathos.

A rare treat was enjoyed in the piano solos given by Prof. C. A. Gustlin, who is so well known and admired by all Santa Ana people.

Mr. Gustlin gave his first number, "Der Liebes Traum" (Liszt), responding to an enthusiastic encore with "To Spring" (Grieg). The assemblage was charmed with Mr. Gustlin's performance, and showed its appreciation by generous applause.

Monday Club Tonight

The Monday Club will meet tonight, with T. E. Stephenson presenting the paper of the evening. Officers for the year will also be elected.

Dollar Social

One of the pretty events of the opening of the social season was the "dollar social" given last Friday by the ladies of the Methodist church, South, at the home of Mrs. Dr. Hervey. The affair took the form of a garden party and the environment was charming, the garden house being prettily trimmed.

The experiences of the ladies in earning the dollars that were turned into the church treasury proved to be amusing and interesting. Besides these narratives, phonograph music, fancy work and conversation were enjoyed, making the afternoon pass all too soon.

Cake and punch were served in unique fashion, the delicious cake being served to each guest in a napkin tied with raffia. Large leaves were used instead of tray cloths, and the punch bowl rested cosily in a big pumpkin. Mrs. Hervey was responsible for the quaint and pleasing arrangements.

The affair was a financial as well as a social success, every lady present presenting a dollar to the fund that is to be expended in church improvements.

Fallert-Cozad

Leo Fallert of Fullerton and Elizabeth Cozad of Tustin, were married at the Congregational parsonage by Rev. Secombe on Saturday evening at 5 o'clock. The groom is in the postal service at Fullerton and has taken his bride there to reside.

Delightful House Warming

On Saturday there was a gathering of the clans at the handsome new house just built by Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Allen on McClay street. It was a notable house warming, and at noon a dinner, sumptuous and inviting in the extreme, was served in the big new barn that accompanied the building of the splendid new house. Fifty guests, all related, sat down at the tables, on which were every delicacy to be procured, ranging from scalloped oysters and fried chicken to delicious desserts. The big barn was a bower of beauty with pepper boughs and ferns, and it was a joyous assemblage that enjoyed the dinner and the happy day following.

Music enlivened the after dinner hours, the bright, particular stars being Prof. Ray Cogswill, leader of the music in the University Methodist church, Los Angeles, and Miss Mary Groves, teacher of music in the Los Angeles Polytechnic High School. Old songs sung by all followed the instrumental and vocal selections given by these two.

Out of town guests including two daughters of the Allens, Mesdames May Carter and Edith Sheridan from New Mexico, were present from Los Angeles, Pasadena, El Monte, Long Beach, Tustin and El Modena. Assemblyman Prescott Cogswill from El Monte was a notable guest. Twelve resident relatives were unable to be present owing to sickness and other reasons, but barring the regret felt over their absence, the reunion was a completely delightful one.

Back From Vacation

Superior Judge Z. B. West and his son, Bertrand, and J. C. Thomas have returned from a vacation spent in the mountains of Tehama county. They had deer meat from the second day of their arrival to the day of their return. Venison stewed, venison fried, venison broiled, and venison in every other form known to the culinary art, and trout were features of the camp. Bertrand West killed a fine buck. In the party were Dr. Thomas of Los Angeles and Mr. Heider of Hollywood.

What about "Esmeralda?" Are you going to join the procession and see that delicious play at the Grand Opera House, Tuesday night, Sept. 27.

And Away He Went

Aaron Goodman, a crippled hobo, was given a floater in City Recorder Willson's court this morning. Saturday when Goodman was in court he was defiant, and knew more law than anyone. This morning he was subdued, melancholy and glad to plead guilty and be given a chance to go.

"Will you leave town?" asked the judge.

"Sure, and I will. If you say so, judge, I am on my way now."

BRILLIANT WEEK-END MILLINERY OPENINGS

The millinery openings at the week-end were brilliantly successful in point of display, and in spite of many counter attractions such as the first Ebell Club meeting of the season and the Orange street fair on Saturday afternoon and the circus on Friday afternoon and evening, there was a remarkably good attendance and many fine sales were made in each establishment. Those having displays were E. S. Gilbert Co., Miss Schumacher, the Misses Rutherford, Miss O'Donnell and Mrs. Anderson.

Most complimentary remarks were made as to the genuinely good styles displayed, the hats and trimmings being fully up to the standard of the city stores. All the novelties were shown, the various establishments exhibiting imported hats as well as a multitude of chapeaux fashioned by the local modistes, who are all of special ability this year.

As always, plumes and wings are good style, the essential difference being in the new forms taken by these. The willow plumes, introduced so largely last season, are strong this season, and the wings are, many of them, huge, one of these in some instances forming practically the sole trimming of a large hat. Flowers in silk, silver and velvet are popular, and ornaments of some sort are indispensable, either in the form of brilliants, tapestry, buckles, silk and velvet cabochons and buttons. Persian silks and the flowered chiffon silks are in great vogue and will vie with any other material for precedence during the season.

E. S. Gilbert & Co.

Not only were many gorgeous creations in hats, including both large and small, mushroom shapes and the fetching turbans, besides all the elegant fancies in trimmings of every description, but the dry goods department was most attractive with the fall and winter showings. Mr. Gilbert, assisted by a competent corps of clerks, did the honors of this establishment.

Miss Schumacher

One of the most sensational showings here was a combined theater and dress hat in lavender and gold, the first forming the attractive under part of the hat when used for street purposes. A beauty of a large hat was shown in black, trimmed with willow plumes and with under cap of falling lace. Pink carnations and ferns were used in room decorations.

The Misses Rutherford

Here were displayed many nobby chapeaux, one of which was a tailored hat in Persian silk and blue. Another was a large hat in wisteria with softly falling plumes. Richly trimmed turbans, and the famous Elzee hats were attractively displayed.

Miss O'Donnell

Here, as always, were seen some extremely stylish creations, ranging from the picturesque large hats to the close turbans that are bound to have a great popularity. Every novelty of the season was displayed in the many stunning hats and their trimmings.

Mrs. Anderson

Her big trade last year prompted Mrs. Anderson to enlarge her show space, and at Saturday's opening two parlors were crowded with delighted visitors who found the hats beautiful and moderately priced. In addition to the handsome styles shown for matrons, young and old, a specialty was seen here of girls' hats in satin, one creation being of soft folds of the rich goods, with sprays of rosebuds.

Mrs. Alice E. Kirke 1897

Mrs. Alice E. Kirke 1910

Free lecture and demonstration on the care of the body and the face. Care should be given to the body, the temple of the soul, that the mind may be capable of great things. The human body is the grandest structure on the face of the earth. Why neglect it? You have now the only face you can ever have. Why not give it the care and attention that is its due? Why allow wrinkles to come? Why allow freckles, moth patches, blackheads, tan, sunburn, pimples, large pores and superfluous hair to disfigure you, when these can be removed by the study and practice of nature. Mrs. Alice E. Kirke, the famous teacher of physical culture and dermatology will tell you how, explaining and showing how all parts of the body can be developed, also how to reduce the disfiguring large abdomen. Mrs. Kirke has a perfect form, every measurement correct. This has been accomplished by physical culture. Mrs. Kirke is a graduate of Kings School of Physical Culture, Elocution and Dramatic Art, Pittsburg, Pa. She has been a teacher of the above mentioned arts for 18 years, and realizing the necessity of caring for the face as well as for the body she has also made a study of treatment of the face. Her method is nature's restorative. Every lady in Santa Ana should hear this lecture. Remember it is free to all. Spurgeon's Hall, Wednesday, September 28, 2:30 p. m.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS CARRIED OFF HUNDREDS

Census Bureau Gives Details For 1909 Mortality in Dread Disease Among Children

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—There were 569 deaths from acute anterior poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis, 116 from pellagra, 55 from rabies, or hydrophobia, and 9 deaths from leprosy in 1909, in the death registration area of continental United States, which comprises over 55 per cent of the total population, according to the Census Bureau's forthcoming bulletin on mortality statistics for 1909 submitted to Census Director Durand by Dr. Cressy L. Wilbur, chief statistician for vital statistics.

It is reported that, of the 569 deaths from infantile paralysis, 552 were of white and only 17 of colored persons. There was a somewhat greater incidence of disease among male and an increased mortality in August, September, and October.

The bulletin states that no statistical segregation of infantile paralysis as a cause of death has been made heretofore, but the increasing importance of the disease and its wide prevalence throughout the country in the form of local epidemics render a statement of the mortality important. Like meningitis, which it somewhat resembles, it is difficult to obtain an exact separation of the deaths from the specific infectious disease, acute anterior poliomyelitis, from other infections of similar nature. Acute anterior poliomyelitis is described by the bulletin as an acute infectious disease chiefly affecting children in the first five years of life, and while not infrequently fatal is of even more serious consequence as the cause of more or less permanent paralysis and atrophy of muscles. Numerous outbreaks have occurred in this country, the most important of which were those in Vermont in 1894, and in New York and Connecticut in 1907. The 569 deaths compiled for the registration area for 1909 were widely distributed, and indicate endemic or epidemic prevalence in many parts of the country. It should be remembered, the bulletin points out, that the census data relate only to registration sources, and that for the nonregistration states the deaths are only those returned from the registration cities contained therein. The deaths from acute anterior poliomyelitis in the registration states numbered as follows: California, 12 (1 in San Francisco); Colorado, 6 (1 in Denver); Connecticut, 6 (1 in New Haven); District of Columbia (City of Washington), 1; Indiana, 14; Maine, 6; Maryland, 4 (1 in Baltimore); Massachusetts, 62 (21 in Boston and 1 in Worcester); Michigan, 16 (2 in Detroit); New Hampshire, 11; New Jersey, 24 (2 in Jersey City, 6 in Newark); New York, 115 (2 in Buffalo, 64 in Greater New York, 2 in Rochester, 1 in Syracuse); Ohio, 16 (1 in Cincinnati, 2 in Cleveland); Pennsylvania, 76 (8 in Philadelphia, 8 in Pittsburgh, 1 in Scranton); Rhode Island, 4 (3 in Providence); South Dakota, 6; Vermont, 2; Washington, 5; and Wisconsin, 51 (1 in Milwaukee).

The disease does not seem particularly to affect the large cities of 100,000 and over population in 1900, as given in the preceding list.

For the nonregistration states there were, in the registration cities only, deaths numbering as follows: Alabama, 2; Illinois, 19 (17 in Chicago); Kentucky, 2 (1 in Louisville); Louisiana, 1 (New Orleans); Minnesota, 82 (21 in Minneapolis, 53 in St. Paul); Missouri, 5 (1 in Kansas City, 4 in St. Louis); Nebraska, 8 (Omaha); North Carolina, 1; Oregon, 2 (Portland); South Carolina, 1 (Charleston); Tennessee, 1; Texas, 2; Utah, 3, and Virginia, 3.

The duration of illness prior to death was reported only in 292 of the 569 cases. In 19 of these it was 1 year or more, 1 each being reported as of 10, 14, 16, 18 and 29 years' duration. These may represent the results of old attacks or perhaps may include deaths from other forms of poliomyelitis. There were 40 cases of duration of illness in excess of 1 month but less than a year, 21 of which were under 2 months. The great majority of the fatal cases returned were of very brief duration, 253, or 87 per cent, being of less than 1 month. Of these there were 20 stated to be of 1 day, 22 of 2 days, 30 of 3 days, 31 of 4 days, 28 of 5 days, 18 of 6 days, 24 of 7 days, 10 of 8 days, 5 of 9 days, 22 of 10 days, only 1 of 11 days. The tendency to report in round numbers or to give even weeks somewhat vitiates the exact statements; the average duration of all the fatal cases with duration of under one month is 7.2 days.

The bulletin states that among the rarer diseases included in the epidemic group may be found some whose occasional occurrence awakens more interest and popular fear than many hundred times as many deaths from more accustomed causes. Among these there were, during the year 1909, 3 deaths from typhus (typhus fever), 79 deaths from smallpox, 2 deaths from plague, and 9 deaths from leprosy. No deaths occurred from Asiatic cholera or from yellow fever.

In the second subdivision of the class of general diseases there were compiled 8 deaths from glanders, 14 from anthrax (malignant pustule), 55 from rabies (hydrophobia), 38 from actinomycosis, trichinosis, etc., 116 from pellagra, 86 from lead poisoning and 5 from other occupational poisoning.

Pellagra is a new disease in the mortality statistics the bulletin states. Only 23 deaths were returned from this cause for 1908, and no deaths for any previous year except 1 for 1904. Such deaths undoubtedly occurred, but were not recognized and were consequently returned as due to other causes or as of unknown cause.

As the registration area includes only a small portion of the country in which pellagra is most prevalent, it would seem that many hundreds and perhaps thousands of deaths from this disease might occur each year in the United States. How many can never be known until systems of complete registration of deaths are more generally adopted.

faced every year by the men of the revenue cutter service, is told in the report made by Captain D. P. Foley, commander of the Behring Sea Fleet, upon the wreck and abandonment of the cutter Perry.

Narrow escapes have been many, but the Perry, thanks to the skill of the revenue cutter service men, is the first loss which has been sustained by the government in what are perhaps the most perilous conditions of navigation in the world.

The wreck occurred on the Tonki Point Reef at St. Paul's Island. Captain Foley says in his report. "The Perry was hard and fast ashore, forward and amidship, and all her compartments below the decks were filled with water. I decided to abandon her after consultation with the officers of the Perry and Manning, being convinced that it was absolutely impossible for us to save her without wrecking appliances that were not on hand or available. Even if we should succeed in pulling her off the rock it would be only to have her sink and we should be risking another and much more valuable vessel in working in the foul ground around her."

"The Perry is lying in a very exposed condition, the tide ebbs and flows in her, and in my opinion, she will break in two in the next blow from any quarter, except directly from land, which may occur at any time now. I therefore ordered her stripped. A large part of her stores and outfit had already been put ashore."

"The accident happened while the Perry was on her way from Northeast Point to East Anchorage, St. Paul's Island, for mail. The Tahoma (Captain Foley's cutter) heard the distress signals of the Perry at St. George's Island and proceeded at full speed to her assistance, but was unable to give aid, because on her arrival the hold and fire room of the Perry were full of water and she was pounding on the reef."

"Navigation about the Pribilof Islands, and in particular about St. Paul's Island, which is fringed with dangerous reefs, is very difficult because of the fogs, dense at times, which prevail during the sealing season, and the treacherous currents varying in force and direction according to no known law."

"The vessels must cruise in fogs to make the patrol efficient, because it is in foggy weather that the sealers approach the rookeries and the cutters must keep in touch with the land in order not to lose the islands. In the past season the Bear lost them for three days and other vessels have cruised about them for days without finding them."

The revenue cutter Adams struck Tonki Point in 1898, and the Corwin, Bear, McCulloch and Manning went ashore there, but those vessels had wooden bottoms and escaped. In the case of the Perry the rocks pierced the metal hull and there was no hope of escape.

"It is as Captain Foley says, the waters around the seal islands are the worst in the world," said Captain Worth G. Ross, chief of the revenue cutter service, in commenting on the report. "You strike a current sweeping along, and when you get into it again it is running in the opposite direction."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Germ laden corn is cultivated at the agricultural experiment station on the Virginia side of the Potomac and a fair share of the crop is stolen by petty thieves. As no epidemic of the kind supposed to follow a diet of diseased corn has been reported, experts have had to admit that there are exceptions to their theories as to the effect of germs on the human frame.

In planting the field the sharps of the Agricultural Department took their seeds from cobs infected with some of the diseases that afflict the kink of crops. The object of course, was to find by experiments means for destroying the deadly germs. Scientific cultivation has brought about a good looking field of corn, but it is a tuff not to be recommended for man or beast. Neighbors understand about it but stray victims of the lure of corn do not. So from time to time messes of the grain disappear.

A negro caught in the act by a policeman was up in court a few days ago. He had been seen on a previous occasion with an armful of ears of corn but he had a good start and got away with the loot. In court he quivered when the judge explained the kind of corn with which he had been dallying.

"Germs! Do you know what that means?" asked the court. "That corn was full of 'em. It was poisonous if the Agricultural Department has the kind of corn it planned to get."

"Judge, I did feel a little queer last week," the prisoner answered, conjuring up symptoms in his fear. "What does it mean, judge, when a colored man feels hollow behind the ears?"

"It may mean crossing the River Jordan and angel voices."

"Judge, ain't you kiddin' me," begged the prisoner. "An' I was going to be married Saturday night."

He was given thirty days in the workhouse as a penalty and for observation.

An instance in which the government placed a tenacious grip on $50 has a place in current Treasury records. It shows that B. M. Leitch paid $50 for a license to sell curios and photographs in Yosemite National Park for one year beginning January 1, 1910. He was given the privilege of occupying a cabin in the Mariposa Big Tree grove. Leitch died in April before he had opened his place of business for the year. As no goods had been sold under the license and it was not transferable, the administrator of Leitch's estate thought that the government would be willing to refund the license fee of $50. He applied to the Treasury officials for the money but the only answer they could make was that there was no law authorizing a refund in such cases. Leitch's death revoked the license but that invoked no drawback. In May the privilege that had been held by Leitch was sold to E. N. Baxter, who paid $50 for a year's license. A last accounts Baxter was in good health.

The National Museum at Washington will have an impressive array of more or less damaged skulls illustrating the history of Panama Canal digging, if Mr. Ales Hrdlicka, curator of the division of anthropology, has his way. Dr. Hrdlicka is now on the Isthmus making researches. He is of the opinion the old burial grounds of negro laborers will yield treasures in the form of skulls of various dimensions and outlines and he wants to preserve them and store them away in glass cases in the big new museum building which is just nearing completion.

In a letter to Chief Engineer Goethals he says: "There exist, undoubtedly, along the lines of the canal, a number of old and abandoned burial places of negro laborers, and it is possible that before the present excavations are completed, one or more such burial grounds will accidentally be opened. In such cases there will be found skeleton remains, particularly skulls which, in a fair state of preservation, would be of considerable value to science. I therefore, beg to call your attention to this matter and to ask that if any such crania be discovered they be gathered for the United States Museum, providing that the collections will not interfere with the duties of your employees, and that it will exercise no adverse influence in any direction. In a case free from such objections the crania that are unbroken may be saved, packed in one or more suitable boxes and these be turned over to the chief quartermaster for transmittal to the United States National Museum."

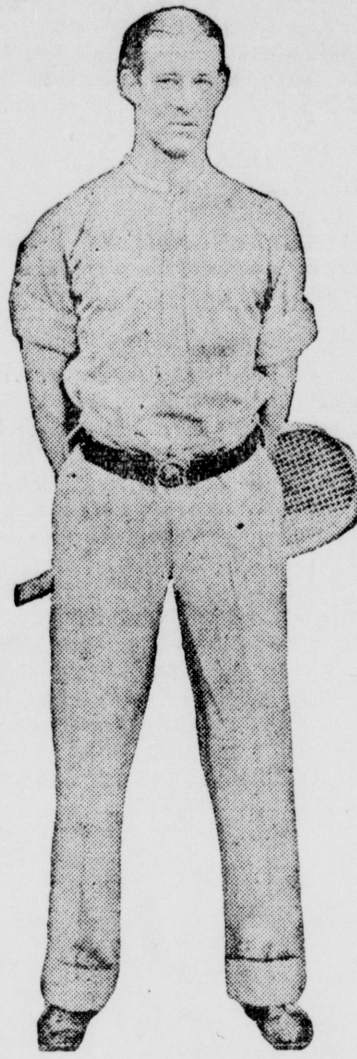

While voodooism and other informal institutions flourish in Hayti there is a better story to tell of the commercial enterprise of the citizens of the colored republic. They are growing cotton on trees, according to a report from Consul John E. Terres, at Port au Prince. He says that last year's crop amounted to 3,615,972 pounds. It found a ready market in Europe. The production has become greater year by year and the success of planters in marketing recent crops gives prospect of a larger increase in the future. Europe is chosen for the selling market because better prices are obtainable there than in the United States. The crop is gathered in the first four months of the year and the merchants ship as fast as the cotton comes in from the country. The cotton tree once planted increases in size and production for fifteen or twenty years. Commercial Agent Turner reports that the imports into Hayti from the United States in 1909 were $3,831,965, an increase over the preceding year of $591,940, while from all other countries Hayti imported only $515,000. Of flour, the United States shipped 148,539 barrels, or practically all that was imported. The customs duty, which amounts to about one hundred per cent, of course restricts the growth of the business.

Hayti is not growing in commerce as rapidly as some of its neighbors, but the merchants are very friendly to the United States, which has the greater part of the trade in dry goods, implements, food stuffs and hardware. The wants of the people are not many and the country is fertile and productive where it is tilled, so that it is possibly a trifle more self-dependent than some other West India Islands. The national debt at the end of 1909 was $25,430,330 gold and 9,976,256 gourdes, making practically $27,000,000, the interest on which has been paid in advance for some time.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Larned, One Athlete Who Could Come Back.

Jim Jeffries tried hard, but could not come back. Many other athletes have also had it proved to them that they could not keep at the top all the time or retain the title after remaining idle for some time. But William A. Larned, the five time national lawn tennis champion, has shown that he can come back. On June 22, when Larned was scheduled to play Gustave Touchard, he was unable to fill his engagement because of a strained tendon, but rather than win the match by default Touchard agreed to postpone his match with Larned until the latter was physically able to play. It was a good act of sportsmanship on the part of Touchard, but resulted rather disastrously for him, as the match was played recently, and Larned won with ridiculous ease. Larned also showed his class later by defeating Maurice E. McLoughlin, the nineteen-year-old Californian, who was picked to win the Metropolitan handicap. This victory gave Larned permanent possession of his third Longwood trophy. For twenty years he has been in the game, and today at forty we find him as the best lawn tennis player in America.

Leach a Great Ball Player. Tommy Leach, the Cleveland boy playing the outfield for the world's champion Pirates, is the greatest of all ball players, past or present, in the opinion of George L. Moreland, Pittsburg baseball statistician. George has been figuring major league batting and fielding averages for thirty years and has seen all the big players.

"You can talk of your Wagners, Lajoies, Cobbs, Mathewsons, Josses, Walshes and Youngs, but I think Tommy Leach is the greatest ball player that ever lived," says Moreland.

"Looking at his work from every angle, you can't find a single weak point. His fielding is remarkable, he uses rare judgment in running the bases and a more timely batter never stepped to the plate."

"Above all, Leach knows how to do it and when to do it on the ball field. There's no wasted motion. He's always looking for and seeing an opportunity to help his team."

Blind Baseball Fan Knows Game. The most enthusiastic baseball fan in Kansas is C. Gish of Abilene, a piano tuner, who is totally blind. He attends all the ball games at Abilene and is well acquainted with the names of the players and the merit of each on the field. Mr. Gish can tell you how many balls or strikes there are on a batter and how many outs on the side at bat. After the game he can tell the features of the game and enjoys talking over the play with his friends.

"How can I enjoy a ball game when I cannot see a play?" said Mr. Gish recently. "Well, I listen to what the people about me are saying. I can tell every play that is made provided there is not too much noise."

Would Use Compressed Air Bats. There is a member of the Kansas City team who is experimenting with bats loaded with compressed air. It has been proved that an ordinary hitter can knock a ball loaded with compressed air to great distances, so this player believes a bat loaded the same way would act in the same manner.

Howell to Be Ump. Harry Howell, the famous pitcher of the St. Louis Americans, will be appointed a big league umpire. Kerin, who has been ill, which compelled the single umpiring system, may not return to the game. So the president of the American league is scouting for umpires.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—It may no longer be ascribed to an over-zealous anticipation to say that the beginning of the end of the giant task of digging the Panama canal is in sight.

The structure,—it may well be called that for the digging of the great ditch is but one feature of the work,—is taking such shape that an amateur without the trained imagination of the engineer for looking into the future, can see what the canal is going to be by running over the course through the zone from Colon to Panama.

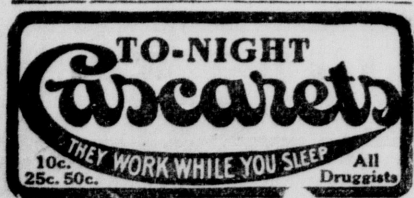

In the Culebra and Chagres sections where the greatest amount of excavation is to be done there is a deep gash through the hills. In the Culebra section of the 84,000,000 yards of dirt and stone that were betaken out, the steam shovels have already gouged out more than 50,000,000 yards. In the Chagres section of the thirteen million yards of excavation, ten millions has been done. In the other sections the work of this character is almost complete with the exception of the deepening of the channel by the dredges.

In eastern sections of the great dam at Gatun has been brought up to the level of the 63 feet above the sea. More than nine million cubic yards of wet and dry "fill" have been placed. The barrier which is to hold in check the waters to form the lake from which water is to be drawn, to supply the locks, is now so nearly finished that a sight of it always conveys an adequate idea of its tremendous bulk.

The gigantic locks are being outlined in concrete. The upper or lake level lock of the flight at Gatun is almost completed. The walls have almost reached their full height and the towering steel forms will soon be moved to the lower locks of which the floor has been practically completed.

A story of the sea perils, which are

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The first car of dried peaches this season came in yesterday morning from the Fresno district. Half a car of new raisins came from the same part of the state. The first car of Santa Clara prunes were also received. This marks the real opening of the dried fruit season as far as local distribution goes. Prices under the heavy arrivals were not changed in the slightest manner.

The first few walnuts gathered in the Santa Ana orchards also arrived. The shipment amounted to 25 sacks of No. 1, Association grade, bleached, and the price paid by the dealer to the grower was in the neighborhood of 16 cents a pound, the highest opening price in several years. The Walnut Growers' Association of Southern California meets this morning to determine the prices of the season.

The initial shipment of apples from Utah came in. The car was made up entirely of Jonathans, shipped out of Provo, the chief apple section of Utah. They were billed to one dealer and will be sold at an average of $2.50 a box. The apples are of the very finest appearance, due partly to the stringent laws passed by the state of Utah forbidding anything but first class fruit, free of all worms.

and blemishes, to leave the state. This is the first instance in the United States that any state law has been specifically applied to any particular product in this way. It means a complete change in the attitude of dealers outside of Utah in holding the fruit at better value and giving it a much wider reputation than when much poor stock was sent out by the packers. Other receipts of apples were 10,800 boxes.

There were no changes in the staple market. Egg receipts were 108 cases. The demand was more than the supply, and northern case count as a result brought a good figure. Butter arrivals were 15,320 pounds—not as large as normal for the past two months. There were no extra heavy sales and prices were steady.

Cheese arrivals were very light, only 929 pounds. Offerings were prolific. Buying was restricted to Swiss imported, Oregon daisy and northern fresh.

Highland potatoes were best sellers. The market on spuds was merely steady. Receipts of the day were 4099 sacks. The onion market was firm. Austrian Browns sold freely. Arrivals were only 37 sacks.

A car of beans arrived, 300 sacks in all. The demand was for Lady Washington and pinks, on both of which slight price concessions were allowed by dealers. Receipts of sweet potatoes were 357 sacks. The market on sweets was not very firm. The first Isabella grapes arrived from mountain vineyards. They sold at $1.25 per crate. This grape is much larger than the Concord, has the same free skin and a similar though a trifle more sour flavor. Other grapes were firm. Good Tokays sold for $1.00. Black varieties brought from 50 to 75 cents according to quality. Peaches of best quality were worth 90 cents.

CROOKS GONE FORFEIT BAIL

Woman Come Here Yesterday and Put up Money for
Two of the Trio

J. J. Glenon, Dave Harris and Frank Baker, crooks, have gone and the state is $300 to the good.

The three men were arrested on Friday at the circus grounds, a Pinkerton man with the circus having pointed them out as pickpockets. On Saturday they were charged with vagrancy, and their trials were set for 10 o'clock this morning. City Recorder Willson fixed their bail at $100 each. Glenon slipped some coin from a secret pocket of his clothing, and on Saturday went forth, having raised his bail. Yesterday about noon a woman with a child called at the jail to see Harris. She told him she had money enough for his bail and for the other fellow, too. She told Harris she did not know the other fellow, but on Harris' assurance that he was "all right" and a "good fellow" she put up $200 and Harris and Baker, a dope fiend, went free about 1 o'clock.

This morning at 10 o'clock none of the three were on hand. Judge Willson declared their bail forfeited.

The men probably count themselves lucky to get away, while the officers count the state lucky in getting $300 out of them, for there was no kind of a case against the trio.

NURSE MAKES A CONFESSION

Dr. Thompson Under Arrest
Following Disclosure by Miss Messerschmidt

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—Following the confession of Nurse Marie Messerschmidt of the sordid details of the death of Eva Swan, a charge of murder was filed today against Dr. Robert Thompson, alias James Grant, in whose office the girl is said to have died. The nurse's statement is regarded by the police as the final link in their chain of evidence.

Paul Parker, the ex-Stanford student whom the police allege Miss Messerschmidt blamed for Miss Swan's condition, was not arrested, but is under surveillance, the police say. Detectives are unable to locate Willie Saachs, Thompson's assistant.

Nurse Confesses
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—Marie Messerschmidt, nurse in the employ of Dr. Robert Thompson, alias Dr. James Grant, after being put through the third degree yesterday and confessed, after being confronted with her mother's picture by her brother-in-law that Miss Eva Swan was operated on at the Golden Gate avenue office of Dr. Thompson on April 16, returning for treatment on April 17 and 18 and again on April 20 for continued treatment, dying on April 30. She said Willie Schaeck, the doctor's assistant hired the house on Eureka street where the body of Miss Swan was found under the cement floor in the cellar. Her body was taken there in a trunk and buried.

Paul Parker, a Stanford graduate, author and member of the San Francisco bar, has been arrested in connection with the case. Miss Messerschmidt saying he called twice on the girl during her sickness at the Thompson sanitarium.

"STATES RIGHTS" TO BE THE BONE OF CONTENTION

hot controversy can arise. The resources can be better conserved. The distant government is a wasteful government. Land conspirators find far-off Washington easier of conquest than personal state guardianship.

"What is needed is to make it easy for families to settle the public lands. The government ought to be more interested in locating citizens on its soil than in collecting rent from the public domain. Within Colorado there are twenty-five million acres on which to press a foot, range a calf or cut a whipstock, constitutes trespassing. This is the new Pinchot dispensation. It is no doubt legal, but it is surely restrictive and oppressive to the pioneers who risked dangers and hardships and gave value to the wilderness. Sealing up millions of acres here mean blazed trails to Canada for American farmers.

"Some emotional conservationists have an apopleptic fit if water power is mentioned. I do not believe these enterprises have any strong endowments which might enslave individuals. There is danger in trying to eliminate corporations from the development of the nation. Under state regulation we must depend on capital and wealth, to develop and conserve. Individuals can not build great reservoirs, nor long canals.

"Government assistance in conserving water for irrigation is welcomed as a benevolent and paternal interference in local affairs. As to the control of these waters and the regulation of their distribution, the states are more efficient than the general government."

ROOSEVELT CRIES "WE'LL BEAT THEM TO FRAZZLE"

demand an open session of the resolutions committee to debate the planks before adoption. The debate on primaries planks will be the liveliest. Ex-Speaker of the Assembly Wadsworth is the regulars' candidate for chairmanship of the resolutions committee, and Elihu Root is the Roosevelt candidate.

SARATOGA, Sept. 26.—Scores of delegates and visitors arrived today and although the streets and hotels are crowded with politicians there are no unusual demonstrations. Brass bands and cheering delegates will not have part in the program. There are no "get together" or "love feast" gatherings. The attention of delegates is concentrating on the coming fight.

DEMOCRATS FAVORING HAVENS FOR GOVERNOR

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 26.—That Congressman Havens, who defeated George W. Aldridge in the recent elections, will be nominated for governor by the Democrats on Thursday, is generally believed by the leaders who have already gathered here. Western New York Democrats are not in favor of the nomination of Gaynor, claiming that his controversy with Hearst will place the party in an unpleasant situation. The Havens boom is gaining momentum hourly.
